

ETeMII: High level briefing

Welcome

Mauro Salvemini

ETeMII

high level briefing, Antwerp Belgium, March 7&8 2002

AGILE

- AGILE's mission:

To promote academic teaching and research on Geographic Information Science by representing the interests of those involved in GI-teaching and research at the national and the European level, and the continuation and extension of existing networking activities.

- AGILE's role in ETeMII and future European projects

Mapping the participants

- Participants:
 - From European, national, regional and local organisations
 - Involved in: GI policy, providing GI-services and GI data, GI data use, GI research
 - Originating from 17 countries

U.S.A.

ETeMII

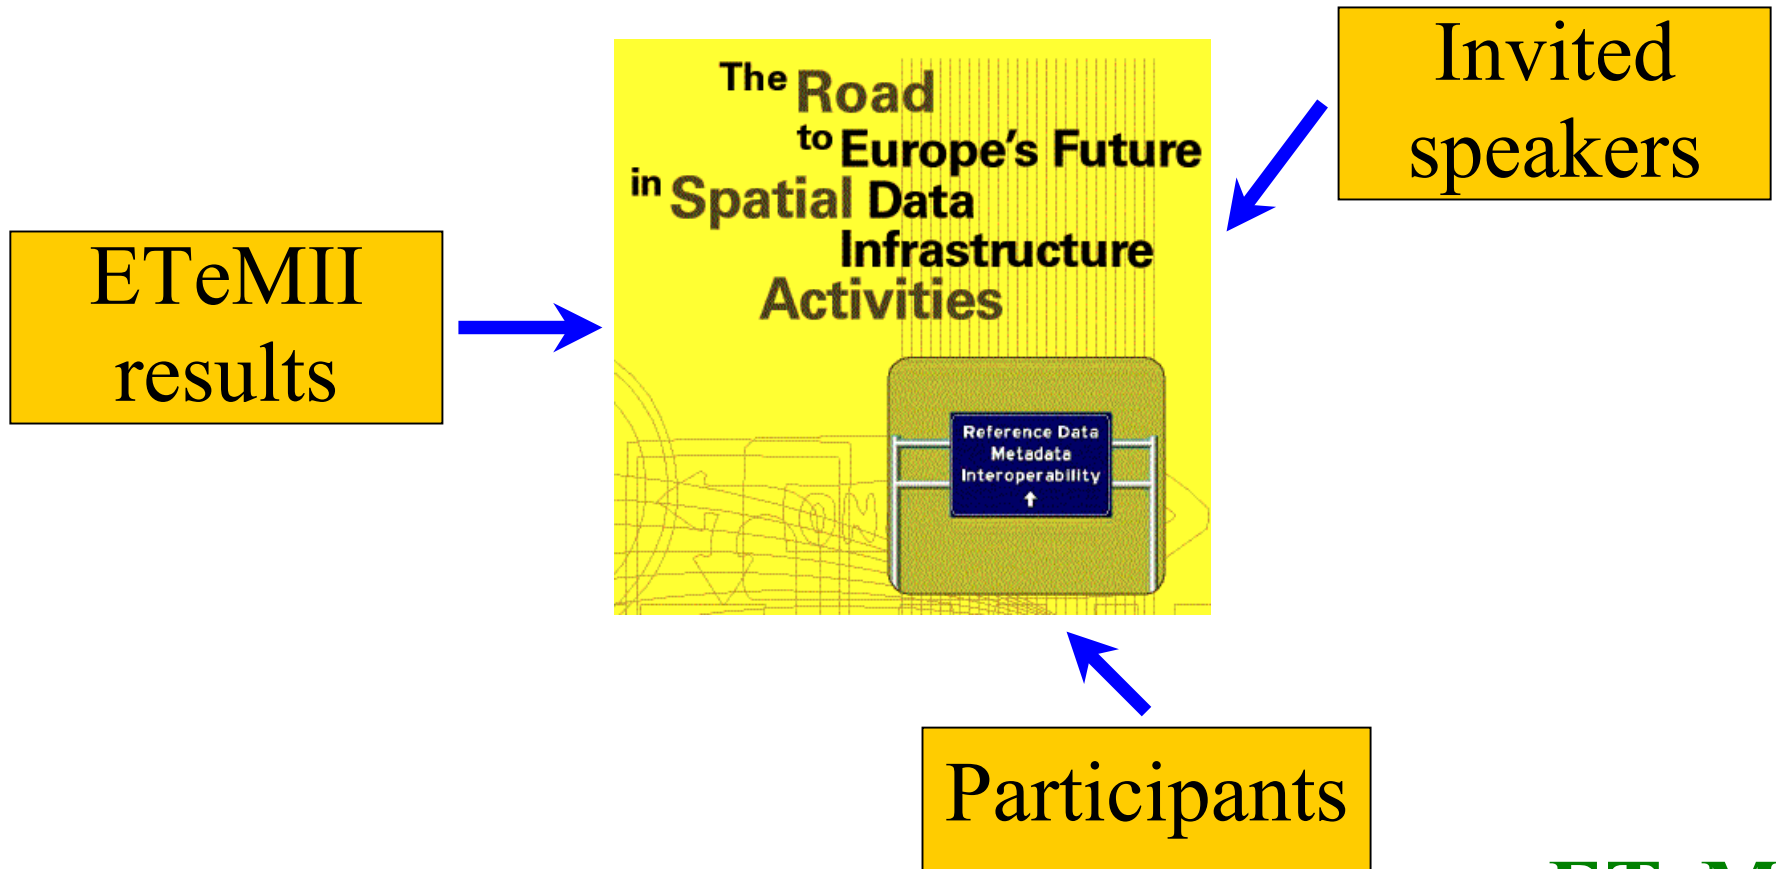

High level briefing, Antwerp Belgium, March 7&8 2002

Aim of the seminar

- Communicate ETeMII results to stakeholders
- Discuss the ETeMII results (white paper)
 - Presentation from selected perspectives
- Discuss the way ahead
 - ETeMII action plans
 - Input from participants

The challenge

ETeMII

High level briefing, Antwerp Belgium, March 7&8 2002